

Ora 23k at Milan Design Week

Media Release

Milan Design Week 2017

Australian designer Ross Gardam will be presenting his new limited edition Ora 23k Gold Desk Lamp during Milan Design Week. The exhibition will feature new pieces from 11 of Australian leading designers and is presented by Local Design in the 5 Vie Art and Design district in Milan.

The limited edition desk lamp has a production run of only two pieces, that are fully plated in 23K gold. Ora's precision machined gold form is characterised by its rare orbiting shade. The user can tilt the shade, directing the warm glow and then rotate it around the body. The hidden magnetic joint also allows Ora to snap back into the horizontal position. "Ora is such a tactile product. Although it is outwardly beautiful it really requires interaction to be truly appreciated" says Gardam.

The Australian company exports products worldwide to a strong client base and views the presence in Milan as an opportunity to meet new partners to bring the growing collection of lighting to additional regions. "Each of our lighting collections has its own unique personality and the products translate well to any contemporary market. The lighting utilises high quality Australian based manufacturing and we are keen to see our products perform well in array of locations." says Gardam.

The exhibition will be running from the 3rd to 9th of April, 2017 at Oratorio Della Passione, Piazza Sant'Ambrogio, District 5 Vie, Milan. Local Design have organised the exhibition and it is proudly supported by Brickworks Building Products.
