

Ora Desk Lamp

Australian designer Ross Gardam will be previewing a production version of the Ora Desk Lamp during Milan Design Week 2018. The Ora Desk Lamp, which has previously only been released in a number of limited editions is now re-engineered with slightly different proportions to the previously editioned piece. The Ora Desk Lamp is now sleeker and more streamlined, with a slimmer base and is now available in brushed anodised black and white champagne.

The Ora Desk Lamp is the result of a desire for purity and honesty in both materials and manufacturing. All components are completely precision-milled from aluminium and anodised to two different finishes. The form of the Ora Desk Lamp is characterised by its unique orbiting shade. Thanks to a clever magnetic joint, the user is able to tilt the shade, directing the warm glow and then cycle the shade around the body. The hidden magnetic joint also allows Ora to snap back into the horizontal position and a new poly ring provides a softer, smoother rotating action.

The Ora Desk Lamp can be previewed at Local Milan No. 3 by Local Design, an exhibition featuring new pieces from 26 of Australian leading designers curated by Emma Elizabeth. Local Milan No. 3 will be located at 5vie, Via Cesare Correnti 14, Milan, from the 16th - 22nd April.
